

The Farm Village

The Farm Village is a special neighborhood-scale cluster of thirteen of the thirty-four StarHill homes. Each home is intended to be sensitively designed and carefully built to be unique, yet blended into a sympathetic architectural character that gives the Farm Village its special charm. Residents of the Farm Village desire the intimate belonging of traditional city neighborhoods with the close connections to nature typically found in more rural homesites. A beautiful natural wetland forms the central focus of this portion of StarHill, while activities of the community garden bring StarHill residents, friends and neighbors into close ties with each other and with the land itself.

The Community Barn will become a center for local food production and for social functions. The barn will also include space for grounds maintenance, workshop & studios

Rustic/Modern Architecture

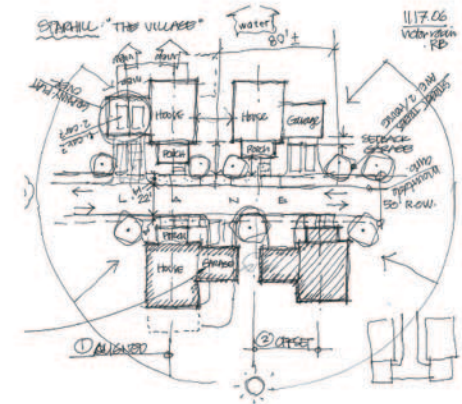

Traditional & familiar forms will be blended with energy-intelligent design and practical, cost-effective "green building" techniques.

The rhythm of houses of sympathetic architectural character will be enhanced by careful placement of garages and porches to provide for safe and smooth movement of vehicles, while preserving individual privacy and identity for each home.
